PRESENTS STATE REORGANIZATION PLANS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 18.—Governor Stephens today presented his state government reorganization plans to the legislature in the form of a special message.

His plan was contained in eight bills. He would group into a number of departments most of the existing boards and commissions. The heads of these departments would be named by the governor. No new state agencies are proposed, nor would any existing agency be given more authority.

The governor followed the Boynton efficiency committee's proposal in drafting his bills and preparing his message, with a few exceptions.

The governor declared that his plan would effect a great saving and would add to the efficiency of the state government, as it would be possible to transfer employees of one state agency to another to adjust slack and busy periods in various offices.

The eight bills covering the reorganization plans were presented in the assembly by Assemblyman John Robert White of Glendale.

BANDITS ESCAPE WITH REGISTERED MAIL

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

CHICAGO, Jan. 18.—Four bandits robbed the United States mail truck at the Union station today and escaped with twelve mail sacks containing registered mail valued at $100,000.

A driver, a guard, a mail foreman and a mail handler were in the truck. A black touring car drove up containing four occupants.

"We are armed," said one of the bandits, quietly. "Do exactly as we say."

They forced the government employees to separate the registered pouches and threw them into the automobile and then drove away. So quietly and quickly was it done that about thirty persons who were standing close by did not realize what was taking place.

SHIPS WARNED AWAY FROM RUSSIAN COAST

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PARIS, Jan. 18.—All ships are ordered to keep twelve miles away from the Russian coasts on penalty of being fired on, according to a wireless message signed by M. Pchitcherin, bolshevik foreign minister, made public today by the French foreign office.

The warning said ships coming within that deadline would be in danger from mines and coast artillery shells. Naval experts here believe the object is concealment of military preparations, especially off shore drills.

BOARD IN FAVOR OF LEGISLATION

ASSEMBLYMAN WHITE ASKED TO GIVE HIS SUPPORT TO CHANGES IN LAWS

ACTION BY TRUSTEES

TWO OF MEASURES RELATE TO STREETS AND OTHER TO SCHOOL ASSESSMENT

Endorsement has been given by the board of city trustees of Glendale to three resolutions adopted by the California Municipalities league, at its meeting held in Chico, and T. W. Watson; city manager, instructed to inform Assemblyman John Robert White of the action and urge him to use his efforts in securing the legislation desired.

In bringing the matter before the board of trustees, the city manager filed the following communication:

"Inasmuch as the state legislature is now in session we beg to call the board's attention to resolutions adopted by the Chico convention of California municipalities affecting proposed legislation. Members of your board have had copies of these resolutions and we will just refer to them here by numbers as per your copy.

"Resolutions Nos. 1 and 5 suggest legislation in regard to major streets or traffic highways.

Ten Miles of Major Streets

"Resolution No. 1 recommends that means should be provided for the classification by municipalities of major and minor streets and that in the event county aid is found desirable in the maintenance of major streets within a municipality that such major streets not exceed 10 per cent of the mileage of dedicated streets within such municipality. On that basis the city of Glendale would have about ten miles of major streets.

"Resolution No. 5 recommends a change in the law to provide a proportionate return to the municipalities of the motor vehicle fund or in lieu thereof to provide for county aid in reasonable form in the maintenance of major streets.

"Legislation as suggested in these

OUT ON HUNT

LOCAL MEN ATTEND LARGE RABBIT DRIVE; WILD CAT KILLED BY HUNTERS

Another rabbit hunt was held Sunday by members of the Pacific Electric Railway club and it was attended by 110, among them being Fred Volkhart and his son, LeRoy Volkhart, 407 West Lomita, Glendale, and Mr. Volkhart's brother John, of Chicago, who is visiting him for a few days. It was the Chicago man's first hunt of the kind and proved a big novelty to him.

About 500 rabbits were secured and one wild cat. The cat was a big one and the skin was retained to be mounted and displayed at the club's quarters.

The hunt was held in the Antelope valley and one of the features not down on the program was a snow storm and a snowball fight. Both the storm and the fight were fast and furious while they lasted, say members of the hunting party.

Awards of Prizes Made

Fred Volkhart has been awarded first prize offered by the club for yellow fins and his son, LeRoy, has been given third prize in trap shooting.

As the hunting members of the club have had two big hunts for rabbits, it is announced that the next outing will be a fishing party, to be attended by 100 or more of the organization's members.

LOCAL ELKS WIN

GLENDALE LODGE'S BASEBALL SQUAD TAKES GAME FROM UNIVERSITY, 20 TO 1

Glendale Elks' baseball nine defeated that of the Southwestern University at a game played at Exposition park Sunday afternoon by a score of 20 to 1.

Crandall as pitcher did some unusually good work. George Hastings and the Doll boys were the heavy hitters.

The local Elks' team is under the managership of Vincent Salmacia. The squad is a fast one and will meet a number of southern California teams during the winter season.

CANDIDACY OF MAJOR LINEBERGER ENDORSED BY LOCAL REPUBLICANS

Resolutions of Endorsement Given

At the dinner held in Glendale last night in honor of Major Walter F. Lineberger, Republican nominee for congress in this district, the following resolution was offered by Charles L. Chandler and unanimously passed:

Whereas: In the campaign which closed so gloriously for the Republican party of the nation, of the state and of the ninth congressional district, on November 2, 1920, the Republican club of the sixty-first assembly district is proud of its position at the head of the column in its support of all the candidates of the party for the positions voted for at this election, and especially so for its loyalty to our friend and neighbor Charles F. Van de Water of Long Beach, candidate for congress for the ninth California district;

And whereas: In the death of our congressman-elect we have suffered with the party in his taking off;

And whereas: On the call of the party to select a successor we took part in the Pasadena conference with full intention to support loyally the nominee of that conference;

Therefore be it resolved: That in the selection of Major Walter F. Lineberger as the candidate we are in full accord with the action of the conference and we hereby pledge to Major Lineberger our unswerving confidence and support. His stand on public questions has come to our attention and we expect to do our utmost to secure his election on February 15.

Assemblyman White Is Called Home By Illness Of His Son

Assmblyman John Robert White arrived in Glendale from Sacramento, called home by a telegram announcing the grave illness of his young son, Kenneth.

About two years ago Kenneth had a serious attack of rheumatism which left his heart in a weak condition. His present illness appears to be a recurrence of the malady. On Sunday his condition was considered very grave, but although he was somewhat improved last night, it was deemed best to send for his father.

Assemblyman White arrived and found his son improving. A consultation of several physicians was held and it was decided the boy's condition permitted Mr. White's return to Sacramento, where he has important legislation pending.

Assured that his boy's condition was improving, Assemblyman White leaves for Sacramento this afternoon.

"There are many matters to take care of in Sacramento," said Assemblyman White to The Evening News. "I am working until 1 o'clock every morning and the strain is great. My bill for a junior agricultural college was introduced yesterday and today the eight bills for the governor's plan of state reorganization were presented through me."

Autoists Out Of Gas Thought Thugs; Cops Of Two Cities Called

A report that autoists were being held up on San Fernando Road, near Elliott Place, three miles southeast of Glendale, Sunday, sent the police scurrying to the scene. They found several Los Angeles officers there when they arrived.

An investigation disclosed that two autoists who had run out of gasoline attempted to stop a number of other motorists in order to buy or borrow some.

An excited householder of the neighborhood, seeing their actions, jumped to the conclusion that hold-ups were attempted and hastily telephoned in the alarm to both Glendale and Los Angeles police headquarters.

MORE RAIN IS PREDICTED

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 18—The official weather forecast: Tonight and Wednesday, rain.

On account of the stormy weather, last evening, the Woman's Auxiliary of the American Legion postponed its meeting to next Monday evening.

CONGRESS NOMINEE OUTLINES PLATFORM

PLEDGES WAR AGAINST LIQUOR AND EFFORTS TO OBTAIN PROTECTIVE TARIFF

Major Walter F. Lineberger of Long Beach, Republican nominee for congress from the ninth district to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Charles F. Van de Water, Republican congressman-elect, was, with Mrs. Lineberger, the guest of honor at a ratification dinner held at the White Inn last night under the auspices of Republicans of Glendale.

W. E. Evans presided and, at the conclusion of the dinner, spoke briefly of how Major Lineberger had been nominated by 360 delegates chosen from every city and community in the district, acting on behalf of the Republicans, at a conference held in Pasadena. He paid a tribute to Major Lineberger as a private citizen and as a soldier with the overseas forces and declared that his family record, clean since revolutionary days, merited the enthusiastic support of the people in the ninth district, of which this city is a part.

At the conclusion of the meeting, resolutions pledging unswerving support to Major Lineberger and further pledging to do the utmost to secure his election on February 15 were unanimously passed. Delegates from several Republican clubs in other sections of the district were present and, as pointed out by Chairman Evans, the honor of firing the opening gun in the campaign really belonged to Glendale, and, he predicted, this city would poll a large majority for the party's candidate at the special election.

More Fruit and Less Booze

Following Chairman Evans' introductory remarks, he called upon Major Lineberger and the latter, in responding, declared he had been entertained in a true Glendale manner. He remarked upon the wonderful progress made by this city in the past few years and asserted that real civic pride was being shown.

Taking up the subject of a protective tariff, Major Lineberger declared:

"We need more California oranges, lemons, beans and olives in the holds of American vessels, and less booze.

"American passenger steamship officials appealed recently to the house judiciary committee asking that the Volstead dry enforcing act be modified, in order that American vessels be allowed to sell liquor to passengers after passing the three-mile limit from American shores. They claim that they cannot compete with foreign vessels that are allowed to sell booze, and say that the American flag will be driven off the seas if American vessels are prohibited from selling liquor.

Flag Never Driven Away

"The American flag has never been driven away from anywhere by any enemy, and certainly will not suffer by refusing a partnership with liquor. This claim of steamship officials is the same old, fallacious argument that appeared in every fight for prohibition. Towns and cities in America were to be 'ruined' if saloons were put out of business. National revenue was to be unobtainable unless it was supplied through the sale of booze. Some there were who believed it a few years ago. None be-

WHERE ARE BABIES?

J. C. SHERER WRITES TO NEWS URGING THAT REGISTRATION OF BIRTHS BE MADE

Editor The Evening News:—During the year 1919, there were 174 births of children in Glendale, according to the records turned in by physicians and midwives to the office of the registrar.

In 1920 there were only 172 reported. It does not seem reasonable that while our population is increasing so rapidly in a general way, Glendale should show a growing unpopularity as a place to be born in. What has the Stork got against us anyway?

The law requires that physicians or midwives shall file birth certificates with the local registrar within thirty-six hours after birth of the child. Parents should realize the importance of registering births of their children and see to it that the physician attends to the requirements of the law.

Japs Recognize Importance

One reason that statistics seem to indicate that there is an undue proportion of Japanese children born in the state as compared with births of children of the white race, is the fact that the Japanese recognize the importance of birth registration and never neglect to attend to it.

During the late war there were a great many American citizens seriously embarrassed because of finding it difficult, and in many cases impossible to find any record of their birth. There are frequently cases in our courts in which the question of the facts in regard to a person's birth is of vital importance, and in many other ways it is a matter that may prove to be too serious to treat carelessly.

J. C. SHERER,
Local Registrar.
Glendale, Cal., January 17, 1921.

GIVEN WARNING ON LAYOFFS

MORGANTOWN, W. Va.—"Laying off" after paydays and taking "holidays" for funerals must cease among union miners employed in this district.

According to Charles H. Bailey, officer in charge of sub-district No. 4 of District No. 17, United Mine Workers of America, who has sent out letters of all miners in this district, these frequent "lay-offs" are being reported and the men are warned that this is in open violation of agreements with the operators.

CLUB BUILDING

MATTER OF PLANS IS TAKEN UP BY COMMITTEE; DINNER WILL BE GIVEN

The Tuesday Afternoon club has taken another forward step in the matter of a new club building.

An advisory building committee composed of the past presidents of the club met with the president, Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson, one day recently, to consider the matter of plans for the new building. They decided to visit clubs owning their own club houses and gather data as to costs, how each building suits the needs of the club, what details would be arranged differently if the club were building again, and any other information that might be valuable in the construction of the new home for the Tuesday Afternoon club.

Booster Dinner Planned

A "clubhouse booster dinner" will be given to club members in the near future, when nothing but club plans will be discussed.

The ladies composing this committee are Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson, president of the club; Mrs. Frank G. Taylor, Mrs. Mary Gridley Brawley, Mrs. A. W. Tower, Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, Mrs. H. E. Bartlett and Mrs. W. W. Ramsay.

All these ladies are entering into plans for the new home with great enthusiasm. They will divide forces in visiting the various women's clubhouses of Southern California, and their reports will be filed for future use.

The members present voted that the Shakespeare section be responsible for an entertainment, to be held in April, for the building fund of the Tuesday Afternoon club.

PLANS ARE BEING MADE IN CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

According to an announcement made today by James O. Stevenson, campaign director, a dinner for 400 people, under the direction of the Citizens' Campaign committee, will be held on January 31 to further the Chamber of Commerce membership drive.

The affair will be known as Glendale's First Annual Civic dinner, and will be held in the First Methodist church. Preparations are already under way for taking care of 400 diners, and a program of unusual interest is promised by C. D. Lusby, chairman of the dinner committee.

Long Beach Man to Speak

George P. Taubman, of Long Beach, will be one of the principal speakers. He has spoken throughout the state under the auspices of the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce, and is said to be one of the greatest civic speakers in the west. At least one other speaker of reputation is being sought for the event.

Preceding the civic dinner, there are to be several group meetings and luncheons of workers and committees at work on the different phases of the campaign. Four of these are to be held this week for the purpose of formulating a tentative program of work.

Campaign headquarters at 105 West Broadway have been made ready for occupancy, and the campaign staff moved in Monday afternoon.

CLUB MEETING

FORTNIGHTLY BRIDGE MEMBERS HOLD GATHERING IN HOME MR. AND MRS. HOWETH

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Howeth, 329 North Orange, were hosts on Saturday evening to the Fortnightly Bridge club.

Members of the club who enjoyed the pleasures of the evening were Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Puffer, Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Wernette, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Barton, Mr. and Mrs. Sawyer, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Ayars, and the host and hostess.

A dainty collation was served on the card tables at the close of the game.

Reports have been received from Czecho-Slovakia to the effect that a chemical works has succeeded in making a substitute for cork from turf. The substance is said to be equal to cork in every way and much lower in cost.

ASSIST YETERAN

A. W. SCUDDER TELLS ABOUT INCIDENT AND WONDERS CONCERNING SEQUEL

A. W. Scudder, 320 West Harvard street, reports the following story in the hope that relatives or friends of a Civil war veteran named Waterhouse may see whether the old gentleman arrived safely at his destination in Sawtelle yesterday.

About noon Sunday an old man wearing a G. A. R. button was seen by Mr. Scudder and a neighbor, reeling and falling in some sort of a fit or seizure on the sidewalk in front of the Scudder home. Both Mr. Scudder and his neighbor rushed out to assist the fainting man, who was sinking to the ground, tearing at his breast as if in agony.

They did what they could to relieve him. When he recovered he told them his name was Waterhouse that he had come from a son's home in Sunland, and was trying to walk to Sawtelle.

Mr. Scudder's neighbor offered to drive him there in his machine, but the old soldier said he had never ridden in an auto and never would. Mr. Scudder gave him a dollar to pay his way back to the old soldiers' home on the car, and offered to go to the car with him. The veteran contended he was now perfectly able to go to the car alone, and as Mr. Scudder was in his slippers, he let him go; but now he is wondering whether the evidently infirm man should have been allowed to go so far alone. Mr. Waterhouse when he was just regaining consciousness also spoke of another son, an aviator, who was killed in the war.

GIFT OF BOOKS

MR. AND MRS. R. L. M'COURT GIVE FORTY VOLUMES TO SCOUTS OF TROOP 2

The Boy Scouts of Troop 2 received a handsome present last week from Mr. and Mrs. R. L. McCourt, 316 North Central avenue, in the form of twenty volumes of books for the troop's library. These include a set of encyclopedias, a set of science history books, a set of first aid books and some story books.

The boys are expecting to use these books in their new clubhouse, which they are hoping to have soon. These books are a very substantial addition to the troop's library, which the boys have been getting together for quite a little time.

At the present time the library is at the home of the scout master, Benjamin Robison, 407 North Louise street.

ENJOY PROGRAM

HARP SOLOIST IS HEARD AT GLENDALE SANITARIUM IN PLEASING NUMBERS

The Glendale sanitarium family was entertained last night by Professor Salvator De Nufrio, the coloring harp soloist of New York City. Each selection drew the most hearty applause from the representative audience, and a most enjoyable program was rendered.

Professor De Nufrio is a born artist, having commenced his public career at the age of 9 years. Not only is his technique the best, but the $2,000 harp responds to his magic touch with almost human tones, say those who heard him last night.

FOOT IS INJURED

P. T. DARNELL IS HURT BY CONCRETE MIXER; BEING TREATED AT HOSPITAL

P. T. Darnell, who, with his wife, is a resident of Glendale, is being treated at a hospital in Lancaster as the result of injuries received while operating a concrete mixer on the road construction work being done by White & Hoffman, contractors, on the Mint canyon highway near Acton.

Darnell sustained a serious injury to his left foot when the huge "slip" of the mixer fell upon it. It is stated that it will be several weeks before he will be able to resume his work.

FLOAT TICKETS

DEMAND IS GOOD AND CROWD WILL BE PRESENT AT THURSDAY MATINEE

The committee in charge of tickets for the float benefit matinee at Glendale Theatre on Thursday afternoon are much pleased over the interest the public is showing in the matter. Tickets are going fast and there is every indication that the matinee will be a financial success.

That it will be an artistic success is a forgone conclusion. The photoplay program is a good one chosen especially for this occasion; and the wonderful organ, under the skillful handling of Mme. Maud Moore Clement, cannot fail to please. Mme. Clement has the rare, intuitive faculty of choosing popular programs—programs that please everyone, but are nevertheless artistic and worthy. Those who hear Mme. Clement at the dedicatory program tonight will want to hear her again at the Thursday matinee; those who miss the opportunity tonight will want all the more to attend the matinee at 3 o'clock Thursday—those giving themselves a treat and at the same time contributing toward the sum needed to pay the debt on the float.

Matinee Begins at 3

Manager Howe is so public spirited as to contribute every cent of the proceeds of this matinee toward the float fund; Glendale citizens are showing by purchasing the tickets that they will not be outdone in generosity.

Attention is again called to the fact that the matinee begins at 3 o'clock, not 2:30. Tickets may be bought at the box office, as well as from the committee or the children who are selling them.

Attention East Glendale! To accommodate residents on the east side of Glendale, Mrs. Nanno Woods has arranged to open a branch of the "Woods' School of Piano, Elocution and Dancing" in Hurtt's Hall, 612 East Broadway. Classes in children's fancy dancing and private lessons in piano, elocution, fancy and ball room dancing every Wednesday. Adult pupils before 2 o'clock; school children after 2 o'clock. Opening day with program Wednesday, February 2. Address Mrs. Woods at her home studio, 122 West Milford Street, Glendale. Phone 394.—Adv.

RECITAL TONIGHT

DEDICATION OF NEW ORGAN WILL TAKE PLACE AT GLENDALE THEATRE

Tonight marks an event long looked forward to—the dedication of the great new organ at Glendale Theatre.

The organ of today differs greatly from its predecessor of twenty-five years ago—or even ten years ago. It stands as a monument to the mechanical genius of man, the most complex instrument on earth, the "king of instruments."

The organ at Glendale Theatre is one of the best in the United States. It is also one of the largest; it is nearly twice as large as the organ at Grauman's million dollar theatre in Los Angeles.

Madame Maud Moore Clement, whom William A. Howe, manager of the theatre, chose from among all the renowned organists of the country, is a remarkable artist because she's a remarkable woman. In music as in any other line of endeavor, the highest place is for him who possesses the highest ideals and the greatest capacity for hard work. It is because Mme. Moore is a woman of lofty ideals, real culture and a capacity for hard work that she is a great organist. The technique might be even as perfect as it is, and her natural gifts as remarkable, yet she would fall far short of the greatness she has attained had she not also the qualities enumerated above. In other words, one must be before one can do, where any really great work is concerned.

Signal Triumph for Women

Madame Clement's attainment to the high place she now holds is a signal triumph for women in music in the west; for many western managers have held the view that a woman could not handle an organ successfully. Madame Clement has adequately demonstrated that this view was based on nothing but prejudice, for there is no masculine organist whose performance compares with hers. She had some difficulty in persuading some of the managers to give her a chance to prove this, but her perseverance triumphed.

Manager Howe, however, was not one of the "doubting Thomases." He wanted the best organist, man or woman; and after hearing them all, he knew Mme. Moore surpassed them all.

The charm of her feature numbers is her originality. No one ever interpreted Dvorak's Humoresque or the soldier chorus from Gounod's Faust or Annie Laurie or "Mighty Lak' a Rose" or the Suwanee River as she did at a little private "tryout" of the organ yesterday afternoon. Her interpretation is individual, her own; and while full of little surprises, they are delightful ones—she does not restort to any bizarre little tricks or mannerisms to make her playing "different."

In order that no one may be disappointed in getting a seat for tonight's program, which will include "The House of Whispers," featuring J. Warren Kerrigan. and also a number of soloists in a special program, there will be two performances, one at 7, the other at 9 o'clock.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

SIMPLE INAUGURATION

When Thomas Jefferson went to the capitol at Washington to be sworn in as president he rode his old horse along Pennsylvania avenue unattended and tied it to a fence in front of the building. And because of this incident the name of one who was really an aristocrat at heart has ever since been synonymous with rugged simplicity and freedom from ostentation.

It is not in accord with the sincerity which is the keynote of his character for Mr. Harding to make any grand stand play of his democratic aversion to fuss and feathers, for there is a form of humility that is merely an expression of egotism, but his request that the proposed elaborate celebration of his inauguration be abandoned is in entire keeping with his modest personality. The reasons he presents are sound and cogently stated: "It is timely and wholesome to practice the utter denial of public expenditure where there is no real necessity, and it will be a wholesome example of economy and thrift if we save the many, many thousands which the inaugural celebration would draw from the private purse of those attending."

It augurs well for the restoration of a policy of wise economy in governmental affairs—a policy that is so much needed—that Mr. Harding should take such a stand at this time. His decision will be pleasing to the majority of all the people of the country and applauded accordingly. Not that we are grudging or deficient in desire to properly pay the highest respect to our president, even to the extent of public display of some splendor. Nor that we count the dollars that would be spent and withhold them through parsimony. We expect to make public our deepest respect to President Harding, but the plain mass of Americans with him believes that a demonstration of splendor which may be extravagant is not essential to the occasion.

There will be disappointment in certain circles at Washington which had been looking for an inauguration with circus and vaudeville trimmings and some speculators will mourn over the paper profits they have lost, but Mr. Harding's attitude will be generally commended. If economy is to be the motto of his administration, there is nothing like making a good beginning.

COST OF OVER-FATIGUE

We are all more or less familiar with the nature of fatigue. To some extent we are familiar with the nature of over-fatigue. But of its various causes and of the results of excessive fatigue on the human body, and of its cost to the nation at large, there has been but little public information.

There is needed no proof for the assertion that where fatigue is excessive and prolonged the body loses its resistance to disease and physical ills become frequent. But what we do need is some authoritative information on how much is lost to us from fatigue, and how serious on a national scale this affliction may become.

In the matter of length of the work-day the recent report of the health service establishes definitely that the greater amount of over-fatigue resulting from the long work day brings more accidents than the normal work day. There is, we are told, apparently in plant-production a law of diminishing returns for energy spent, and a point is reached beyond which labor becomes less profitable.

Significant, too, is the estimated loss from fatigue to the 40,000,000 workers in the United States. For a period of 300 days the output of 1,600,000 workers is lost to us each year. At five dollars a day this totals $2,400,000,000. Although this purports to be a conservative estimate, even if it were an overstatement, it is serious enough to consider.

The report of the health service ought to lead us as a nation and as individuals to the consideration of the fact that fatigue-producing conditions and processes should be studied and eliminated wherever possible.

WAR'S GRIM PENALTY

Announcement that Austria has given up the struggle, leaving administration of government to the allies, is not surprising, in view of what has been learned in the last few months regarding conditions in Austria.

The United States, through various benevolent associations and inter-denominational church organizations, is contributing to a fund for saving of upwards of four millions of Austrian children, who must be saved from death by this country if they are saved at all.

The world war and the evils associated with it have made havoc of the once powerful dual monarchy. Hungary, having separated herself from Austria, does not appear to have any interest in the physical salvation of the latter, and Austria is a subject of public charity. If the experience through which Austria is now passing does not cleanse the people of the military spirit—the desire to dominate other peoples regardless of the principles of right—there is little hope that any other nation will learn the lessons of the world war.

France, Italy and the other allies that fought against the German-Austrian combination of nations have suffered greatly because of the war, but their recovery is made certain by the consciousness that they were engaged in a war for human freedom, not against it.

Some observers report that conditions in Germany, while not so hopeless as in Austria, are taxing the ability of the nation to keep from declaring its helplessness because of the sapping of the national life by the war. Only the larger resources of Germany prevent the necessity of admitting complete failure in peace as well as in war.

STRANGE, ISN'T IT?

Isn't it strange that a mother can tell by her baby's cry just what ails the young 'un, whilst just ordinary folk only know it is exercising its lungs?

Isn't it strange that your baby is never actually ugly, whilst the neighbors' kids frequently remind you of a speckled mare or a mud fence?

Isn't it strange that in spite of your mean disposition, and generally well known cussedness about town, your own kids worship you, and by their worship make you frequently ashamed?

Isn't it strange that foolish parents should be thrilled with an ungovernable pride at the mere appearance of a tooth, the lisping of a word, the first faltering footstep as their youngster stands alone?

Isn't it strange that with babies, and love, and laughter, and sunshine, folk should go about cheating and lying and stealing from each other?

Isn't it strange that people really learn so little from the babies, and that they let the babies grow up learning so much that is wrong?

BOARD IN FAVOR

CITY TRUSTEES DECIDE TO ASK ASSEMBLYMAN WHITE TO SUPPORT MEASURES

two resolutions is in our opinion quite desirable. It would first enable the city to officially lay out and adopt a system of major and minor streets and would secure assistance in the maintenance of certain of these major streets. We have in mind particularly in this connection San Fernando Road. This road is a state highway of first importance and in our opinion a large per cent of the cost of constructing, reconstructing or maintaining this roadway should be paid from the general automobile tax.

School District Assessments

"Resolution No. 7 suggests amendments to existing laws that will permit school districts to pay assessments imposed for street purpose. As we understand it under existing laws it is difficult for school districts to pay such assessments. On the other hand it works a hardship on small improvement districts in which school property is located in that property holders therein are assessed for street improvements in front of school property which might better be paid by the entire city or school district. A large portion of school property in Glendale fronts on unimproved streets and it would seem quite important that the changes in the law as recommended be effected.

"There were about twelve resolutions adopted by the conference all of which deal with important matters affecting proposed legislation. The three mentioned here, however, we consider as of special importance to the city of Glendale and would respectfully recommend the endorsement of the same by your board and that Assemblyman John Robert White be requested to use his efforts in securing the legislation suggested."

The motion that the board of city trustees endorse the three resolutions was made by Trustees Bartlett and seconded by Trustee Henry. It carried unanimously.

SHIPS BEAT HIGH RENT

MARINEZ, Cal.—To relieve the housing situation in this city, R. H. Wright, president of the Chamber of Commerce, has wired the United States shipping board, requesting the use of nine 9400-ton freighters in Southampton bay for use as floating apartment houses. The ships are said to have been discarded, but are valued at $15,000,000.

More than 3000 immigrants are passing through New York's Ellis Island station daily. For the fiscal year 1920-1921 more than 1,000,000 will have passed through the station. More than 10,000,000 are waiting in war-stricken Europe to swarm to this country as soon as transportation can be obtained.

TAXATION PLANS

INCREASE FOR CORPORATION LEVY NOT EXPECTED TO PASS LEGISLATURE

A dispatch to The Evening News from Sacramento says that the joint committee of assembly and senate on revenue and taxation had decided on an increase of corporation taxes amounting to 33 per cent in order to equalize them with the taxes paid by other property owners.

Private property, for the past four years, has been paying a higher tax in proportion to its value than railways, telephone and telegraph, light and power companies and banks and insurance companies, the committee was informed. To bring the corporation taxes up to the taxes levied against private property, the board of equalization recommended a 33 per cent increase and the committee, with a few amendments, adopted the board's recommendation.

Predict Program's Defeat

The entire program, however, will be brought before the senate today for consideration and predictions have been made that it will meet defeat.

The bill calling for the increase must receive a two-thirds majority. Fourteen dissenting votes would kill the measure and the committee would have to start all over figuring out some system of getting sufficient revenue.

Indications that all is not satisfactory was given in the committee meeting when several committee members objected to placing any additional taxes on the public utilities.

Assemblyman George Hume of Oxnard suggested the taxing of all merchandise and real estate sales in order to secure the revenue necessary to run the state. He declared he had a measure whereby auto transportation companies, freight and passenger, would be taxed 15 per cent of their gross incomes.

Favors Tax on Gasoline

Part of the money could be used in maintaining the public highways, which were being used by the auto companies. He also advocated a plan to place a tax on gasoline.

Assemblyman W. F. Beal of Brawley proposed restoration of an ad valorem tax on the citizens of the state.

Senator Walter Eden of Santa Ana took objection to Hume's statement that the public utilities were nearing bankruptcy.

"There are thousands of business men in the state in the same fix," he declared.

Male Is Weaker Sex?

Mrs. Pethwick Lawrence of London, leader of the Women's International league, declares that "men are the weaker sex," quite helpless, quite unable to protect themselves. Men, she continues, are so easily caught in the net of war. The special mission of women in public life is declared to be to make war impossible. As non-combatants, the speaker goes on, "We are in the best position to do this. We are not so liable to be called cowards." In conclusion, she says: "A woman would give her life to save her helpless baby boy. That boy is just as helpless when he becomes of military age. The woman who sends her boy to a war is like a woman who throws her baby to the wolves following her sleigh."

While it may be pointed out that there have been wars over women, it remains that peace is supposed to be of special concern to women. When it is reflected that some of the Indian tribes left it to their women to do the mediating, it will be realized that there is nothing new in the idea of the English speaker in this respect. Nor, in view of the instances throughout history in which strong men have been led by women, will the assertion that femininity is the stronger be without some supporters.

If the ideal of world peace ever is achieved, however, it will be reached not by a feminist movement, but by men and women working together in the cause. While the mother heart may suffer more keenly from the casualties of war, full allowance also must be made for the pain to the father heart. The humanity of manhood as well as womanhood must be a factor in the bringing about of a better day.

GLENDALE REPUBLICANS HEAR ADDRESS BY W. F. LINEBERGER, CONGRESS NOMINEE

OTHER SPEAKERS GIVE SOME REASONS AS TO WHY HE SHOULD BE ELECTED

lieve it now. It never was true, and never can be true. Even Peoria, Ill., where a lot of the booze used to be made is glad beyond measure because it has been deprived of the liquor distilleries. The city of Peoria is more prosperous than ever before, as is the case with every town, city and locality in the United States since prohibition.

"What we need on the sea is not booze, but business; not liquor in the holds, but American-made and American-grown products, for the tables of the world, such as California, as well as the rest of America, is ready to supply if given a chance.

"We need free Panama canal tolls for our coastwise shipping; we need a broad and helpful policy as to maritime business on the part of the American government that will build up and regulate our transportation charges from coast to coast, as well as to foreign countries.

"Give us a policy of helpfulness toward the expansion of our harbors; assist us in establishing refrigerator vessels, and let the government protect and subsidize, if necessary, the shipping that plies our waters under our flag."

Liquor Interests Insult Flag

"The steamer officials have added just one more insult to the American flag that has come from the liquor lobbyists. The American flag doesn't depend on booze to keep it on the seas or on the land. It depends on Americanism. Representative Dyer, Republican, of Missouri, told the steamer officials they 'didn't have a chance' to put over their booze program, and I believe he spoke the truth.

"These same foreign steamships that seem to give the American steamer officials such alarm, are bringing thousands of tons of lemons, walnuts, olives, beans and other foreign products into this country because of the low Democratic tariff. Those steamers will not be such a bug-bear to American steamer officials if the United States curbs their activities by putting up a protective tariff barrier. The United States doesn't want booze in its vessels; it wants business."

Interests of Ex-Service Men

Having served in the world war, Major Lineberger has, he declared, the interests of the ex-service men at heart. He is a past president of Arthur L. Peterson Post, American Legion, of Long Beach, and last night he made it plain that he stands for a thorough, impartial and complete consideration of the claims of the ex-service men. He further declared that, at the same time, must be considered the other millions who did not serve overseas, but who did serve as he put it, in the second, third and fourth line trenches.

"A fair and square deal is what the ex-service men want and I say to you that I will, if elected, endeavor to see that they get it," he asserted.

As an experienced engineer, a member of several engineering societies and a former president of the Long Beach harbor commission, Major Lineberger, it is pointed out, is capable of dealing with the needs of the Pacific coast harbors, flood control and reforestation.

Moral as Well as Political

During his address Major Lineberger declared the position of congressman demanded a moral as well as a political duty. He said that, for the past forty years, the cream of American life had been flowing into the ninth district from all sections of the United States and he said that he considered that a high standard was set for him.

He declared that the day of a wet America will never be permitted to come again, but that the liquor interests would, for years, seek, by means of a lobby, to force it. He pledged himself to fight against the wets, whether he was elected or not, and, if elected, to urge the strengthening and enforcing of the Volstead act.

"As the father of four children," he asserted, "I have every reason to battle booze. I have told you my beliefs. If you want me to represent you in congress, I urge that you get out the vote. It takes votes to win. I need your help; I want your help. Get out the votes on February 15," were his concluding words.

Brief Talks Are Made

Following Major Lineberger, Chairman Evans called upon a number of others for brief talks.

Gayland H. Welch of Long Beach, manager of Mr. Van de Water's campaign and acting in a like capacity for Major Lineberger, declared him an ideal successor to the late congressman-elect.

Mrs. J. H. Braly, who declared she "was not a public speaker, but a strong republican," made a pleasing talk in behalf of the candidate and urged that he be given support because he stands for a protective tariff and can work with the incoming president and a Republican congress.

Cadet Taylor of Pomona, in charge of the Los Angeles headquarters for the candidate, said he had helped to elect a congressman before Major Lineberger was born, and, he pointed out, he had, in the years that followed, gained the knowledge that organization wins. He said there are about 165,000 registered voters in the district and he urged organization in very community.

Other Speakers for Lineberger

Mrs. Charles W. Wadsworth spoke in favor of Major Lineberger's candidacy and she was followed by W. A. Blanchard of Highland Park. He said he had personally followed the congressional record of the incumbent and he declared that he could see where false claims for credit were to be made in the campaign against Major Lineberger. He cited several instances where, he said, the incumbent was claiming credit for laws that he had not fathered. He declared that the incumbent had, in six years, made but one speech on the floor of the house.

Judge E. D. Rider, who admitted he is not a resident of the district, but declared he intended to become a resident soon of Glendale, asserted Major Lineberger is made of congressional timber.

"He went over the top for you in Flanders and in France; now go over the top for him on February 15," he urged.

Mrs. Lineberger Speaks

Mrs. Lineberger, wife of the candidate, said she was happy her husband was being given the opportunity to serve his country again, this time in another way.

Owen C. Emery said that Major Lineberger is a man of high ideals and a good American.

"He went into the world war as a private; he was promoted to a captaincy; he came out a major," said the speaker. "He did not scratch a desk with his spurs or dazzle the women with his uniform. He was—and is—a fighter. He is a regular man. I urge that all of you impress upon your friends that February 15 is election day—and that Major Lineberger must be elected."

W. A. Blanchard of Burbank urged that an educational interest be taken in governmental affairs and, too, that the vote be gotten out. He declared that the party's candidate was deserving of full support.

C. H. Toll declared that, he felt certain, Mr. Van de Water would choose Major Lineberger as his successor. He urged that the people profit by the campaign of November and see to it that a heavy vote is cast. He predicted that Glendale would do as well, proportionately, on February 15 as it had in November.

Resolutions Are Passed

The last speaker was Charles L. Chandler and, after paying a tribute to Major Lineberger and urging that he be supported to the limit, presented the resolutions given in full elsewhere in this issue of The Evening News and which were unanimously adopted.

In closing the meeting, Chairman Evans stressed upon the fact that success will be won by organization and he urged that it be impressed upon the people that the election day is February 15 and that every effort be made to get out a large vote.

Following the meeting an informal reception was held by Major and Mrs. Lineberger.

Major Lineberger yesterday visited the Moreland plant at Burbank and was heartily received by the 400 employes.

By controlling the period of light each day scientists have discovered the possibility of advancing or retarding the growth of plants, enabling florists to get poinsettias ready for the market by Christmas and causing iris to bloom in December and chrysanthemums in the spring.

Party Nominee and Platform in Brief

Walter F. Lineberger was born in Whiteville, Hardeman county, Tenn., July 20, 1880. He is married and has four children. His first employment with a large concern was in construction of ports in Old Mexico. He has engaged in railroad and harbor engineering. He owns business properties in Long Beach and is president of a trust company.

Major Lineberger enlisted in the world war as a private, was in France seventeen months, was gassed and wounded in action and rose to the rank of major. He is past president of an American Legion post.

At the meeting held in Glendale last night Major Lineberger announced his platform as that of straightforward Republicanism and Americanism; for a high protective tariff; for the perpetuation unimpaired of the national dry amendment and the strengthening of the Volstead enforcing act; for a thorough consideration of all legislation desired by ex-service men; and for harbor improvement, flood control, water conservation, reforestation and recognition of the great and growing needs of the Pacific coast.

COST OF FUEL

FEDERAL GOVERNMENT PAYS SUM OF $4,824,681 IN WARTIME, IS REPORT

The total cost of fuel control to the federal government during the war was $4,824,681, according to the final report of the fuel administration. That sum represents all expenditures, national and state, by the fuel administration from its organization in September, 1917, to June 30, 1919, when the administration virtually was disbanded. Appropriations made for fuel control totaled $5,813,818.

Expenditures by the headquarters in Washington totaled $2,706,479 and by the states $1,948,618. By far the largest sum was spent in New York state, the total being $212,012, while in New York City $51,675 was spent. Pennsylvania was the second state in the list of expenditures with $84,025, while Illinois was third with $66,849.

There were fifty-two $1-a-year men in the fuel administration, those including Dr. Harry A. Garfield, the administrator; J. D. A. Morrow, Rembrant Peale, John P. White, Timothy Healy, F. M. Whitaker, Pierrepont B. Noyes, Mark L. Requa and Alfred M. Ogle. The highest salary on a yearly basis listed in the report is $3600 a year.

WEDS 3 TIMES IN 4 YEARS

ESCANABA, Mich.—Using three names, William Fuguerer, former member of the Escanaba fire department, was married three times here in less than four years. As William Fugere, July 1, 1916, he married Charlotte Deherson. Under the name of Joseph Fuguere he was married to Rosella Bishop, December 16, 1918. Using the name of Wilfred Raymond, he was married to Mrs. Mathilde Conture, September 28, 1920.

THIEF PROVES WILDCAT

BOSTON—R. D. Saunders, a farmer living on the outskirts of Peabody, went gunning for the skunk or other animal that had been making away with his chickens. He finally found it in the form of a wildcat, stretching out four and a half feet and weighing about fifty pounds. He lost no time "drawing," with the result that the skin of the animal is now being prepared for the Peabody museum in Salem.

WOMEN CHEER THIS RESCUE

ANDERSON, Ind.—Firemen hoisted a forty-foot ladder to rescue a pigeon suspended over a high ledge of St. Mary's church. The pigeon was entangled in twine. Women in the crowd which watched the rescue applauded.

TALKS ON TONGUES

PEPPERY KIND AND VINEGAR ONE, ALSO THAT OF GOSSIP ARE PASTOR'S SUBJECT

Dr. Clyde M. Crist of the First Methodist church is taking up some very practical matters in his Sunday night discourses. Last Sunday night his theme was "That Unruly Member—the Tongue." Next Sunday he will speak on "How to Avoid Family Troubles."

Last Sunday the text was James 3:7, 8: "Every kind of beasts, and of birds, and of serpents, and of things in the sea is tamed, of mankind; but the tongue can no man tame; it is an unruly evil, full of deadly poison." Dr. Crist said in part:

"When the physician comes into our homes to diagnose our troubles and prescribe a remedy, he sooner or later says, 'Let me see your tongue.' Dr. James comes to us who are sick tonight, and being a very practical man as well as a very competent physician, instead of talking about the weather or about folks, he plunges at once into the problem before him; and in the language of the M. D. he says, 'Let me see your tongue.'

One of Life's Biggest Tasks

"The cause of most of our trouble is found just here; and when James would speak of the perfect man he does not speak of great mentality, of strong personality, or of a splendid physique, but he says, 'If any man offend not in word the same is a perfect man.' To learn to govern this small member is one of life's biggest tasks.

"It is so easy to talk, and to talk anything. It is said that a wise philosopher of ancient times bound his pupils to silence for five years; so that they might learn to govern their tongues, and so that when they did speak they would say something."

Dr. Crist enumerated certain kinds of tongues that cause great trouble and that called for heroic treatment by the Great Physician. First, he said:

"There is the peppery tongue. How this kind can keep a whole house, or car-full, or church, smarting. Some people seem to think that bad temper is synonomous with strong character. While one should express his convictions it should be done with kindness.

Only Tendency Is Transmitted

"The vinegar tongue is a near kin to the smarting, biting tongue. The disposition indicated by the vinegar tongue is a development. Doctors tell us that disease is not transmitted to posterity, but that only a tendency is inherited. So with this tongue malady all we can blame our progenators for is the transmitted tendency. What we actually become along that line is a development and for that we are responsible.

"The vinegar tongue comes from the habit of carefully storing up all ones' grievances until he is 'soured' on life. This person is always a pessimist and is very apt to impose on others by insistently presenting his perverted views of life. He is really sick and deserves our sympathy; but his sickness, unless unto death, is not a sufficient reason for the imposition. If it is merely walking sickness he should not even take his medicine in company."

Tells of Gossiping Tongue

Dr. Crist spoke finally of the gossiping tongue. He declared the gossiper one of the greatest menaces and at the same time the greatest liar in the country. He said:

"It is wonderful how these folk come to know things, things that are profound secrets; and then it is equally wonderful when we think of their capacity for passing around the news.

"These various tongue maladies are merely symptoms of a heart disease. The remedy which the Great Physician prescribes is that suggested by the Psalmist when He says, 'Create within me a clean heart, O Lord, and renew a right spirit within me.' If the meditations of our mouths will be right."

Paris Proves Dangerous

PARIS—Again Paris has vindicated her reputation as the most dangerous city in the world for the pedestrian.

Fifty thousand persons were struck down by taxicabs, autobuses and other automobiles on the streets of Paris during 1920, according to statistics just compiled. Of these, 100 died. Fourteen thousand received injuries which necessitated hospital treatment over an extended period, some being crippled for life. The balance suffered bruises or lacerations.

A large proportion were women and children and aged persons. Among the latter was a former minister of justice, Louis Neal, member of Clemenceau's cabinet, who was killed by an American Army Graves Registration car in front of Hotel Continental.

These figures place the famous pleasure capital well above any other city in the world in traffic deadliness, according to authorities here.

It is more dangerous to cross the Place de l'Opera or the Rue Lafayette at its intersection with Chaussee d'Antin or Place Vendome or Place Concorde than to stroll for hours on the boulevards and streets of Petrograd or Moscow in Soviet Russia.

Paris' high casualty percentage is ascribed both to the speed at which vehicles are allowed to run in crowded sections of the city and to defective police regulation of traffic.

Admiral McCully, at Sebastopol, Crimea, reports that 75 cents in American money was worth about 18,000 rubles, or about the cost of one pair of cotton socks.
